

Alexis Camorlinga Medina

FRONT-END WEB DEVELOPER

I am a fresh Graduate of Kenzie Academy from southern New Hampshire University, I have recently acquired my Certificate in Front-End Web Development and plan on expanding my knowledge even more through practice, and courses. My interests include polishing my skills in JavaScript, HTML, CSS, and React. Rising front-end web developer ready to apply recent education and experience while continuing to grow. Looking to join a team to use front-end languages and frameworks to work toward a safe and effective user experience.
